Let Go and Let God

Many twelve-step programs use the phrase “Let go and let God.” In all their simplicity, these five words are the heart of today’s readings. For people who struggle with addictive behavior, these words plainly remind us that we can’t manage, control, or manipulate certain areas of our lives. How many times can we look back in our lives and find evidence of some plan at work other than our own? These are the moments when, for whatever reasons, we let someone greater than ourselves work the plan. We probably didn’t even recognize at the time that we were letting go of anything, but in retrospect, we see God’s hand and loving presence. It is our awareness of these moments that gives us the courage and initiative to let go again later on. It is this courage and initiative that are highlighted in today’s readings. We come to call it “faith.”

Respect Life Sunday

“One of the deepest desires of the human heart is to discover our identity. So often, as a society and as individuals, we identify ourselves by what we do. We base our worth on how productive we are at work or at home, and we determine our lives to be more or less good depending on the degree of independence or pleasure. We may even begin to believe that if our lives, or those of others, don’t “measure up” to a certain standard, they are somehow less valuable or less worth living.

Respect Life Month is a fitting time to reflect on the truth of who we are. Our worth is based not on our skills or levels of productivity. Rather, we discover our worth when we discover our true identity found in the unchangeable, permanent fact that we are created in God’s image and likeness and called to an eternal destiny with him.

Whether it lasts for a brief moment or for a hundred years, each of our lives is a good and perfect gift. At every stage and in every circumstance, we are held in existence by God’s love.”

—USCCB Committee on Pro-Life Activities

With prayerful thanksgiving for her safe return, we have taken 1LT Molly Lawson off the list of military personnel serving our country overseas. We have been informed that she has returned home safely.

Pray for Peace and Safety:
If you have a family member serving overseas, please let us know. We will publish their names in the bulletin to remind everyone to ask God’s blessings on them, that they may return safely to their families. Let us join our prayers for peace and safety with yours. Also, please let us know when they return home safely so that we may rejoice with you.

Little Rock Scripture Study
A Ministry of the Catholic Diocese of Little Rock in Partnership with Liturgical Press

The biblical promise of eternal life appears late in Scripture, but it blossoms into fullness with the resurrection of Christ. Explore the growing nature of the hope of those who have called upon the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob in the past, and the crystallization of our hope for eternal life in the victory of Christ over death. Those with some familiarity with Scripture will find it both inspiring and informative as the hope of eternal life develops and crystallizes through the sweep of salvation history.

Christ has no body on earth but yours, no hands, no feet but yours...

–St. Teresa of Avila

by Most Reverend John C. Wester, Bishop of Salt Lake City

All of us like to be recognized for our talents, our abilities and our accomplishments. As children, we make no bones about it: “Look, Mom! No hands!” or “Look what I made in school today!” As we get older, we become more subtle but no less adept at getting people to notice us and what we have to offer. The sad truth is that many of us do not believe that we have many gifts and the one we are really trying to impress is ourselves. Surrounded by advertising, we are constantly bombarded by perfect smiles, perfect hair and perfect waistlines, all of which contribute to our poor self image. We find ourselves saying, “If only I could draw like that, speak like that, play sports like that.” Deep down we are not at all convinced that we have anything worthwhile to offer the world, nothing with which to make a difference.

If this sounds like a depressing scenario for us, imagine what God’s reaction must be! After all, He is the one who has given each of us all the gifts and talents we will ever need and then some! Every unique and unrepeatable human being is endowed with a myriad of abilities that will help us mature as fully alive and fulfilled persons. To doubt this is to insult the giver of the gift. As the bumper sticker of the ’60s reminded us, “God does not make junk!” God loves each of us and cares for us with great attention to detail. He would never leave us alone or without the wherewithal to find true happiness in our lives. The question is not whether we have the gifts, the question is whether we believe that we have them.

Stewardship as a way of life involves us in an ever-deepening awareness of all that God has given to each and every one of us. As you are reading this article I invite you to stop right now and make a mental list of your gifts and abilities. I will wait for you here.

You are back so soon? Hopefully it took you a long time to make a list of all your abilities and gifts. Every person reading this article has far too many to count. Our provident God makes sure of that. And when we really believe this basic stewardship principle, we begin to live a life of sheer gratitude and security, knowing that we have all that we need in life for complete happiness. Furthermore, the petty jealousies and the stress of competition ebb away and we find ourselves actually delighting in the talents of others, complimenting their accomplishments and rejoicing in their successes. We come to understand the meaning of St. Paul’s insight that all of our gifts work together for the glory of God. As the Body of Christ, each of us contributes our unique gifts to make the whole Church complete and rich in talent. We complement each other as we together compliment God!

Of course, this reality demands that we accept the gifts God had given us, grateful for their uniqueness in each of us. It also implies that we share them with the whole Church, indeed the whole world, so that our talents might become part of the whole and hence be truly efficacious. Failing to acknowledge our gifts or failing to share them means that we will not be satisfied and the Church will not benefit from God’s plan wherein we all work together as one people, giving thanks to the giver of all our gifts.

I invite you to review the list you made a few moments ago of some of your gifts and talents. Thank God for them and resolve to share them, as a sign of your gratitude, with others. And get ready to feel like a little kid riding a bike with no hands!
Speaker and author Kimberly Hahn, wife of Dr. Scott Hahn and mother of six, is a convert to the Catholic Faith. Although honoring Mary was difficult for Kimberly to understand initially, she began to encounter Mary's loving guidance in little ways on a daily basis. In this presentation, she reflects on the joys and sorrows that Mary prayerfully experienced during her time on earth, and shares how her example leads us closer to Christ.

CONFÍA MENOS EN TI Y MÁS EN DIOS

Muchos programas de doce pasos usan la frase “Confía menos en ti y más en Dios”. En toda su simplicidad, estas cinco palabras son el corazón de las lecturas de hoy. Para personas que luchan con alguna conducta adictiva, estas palabras nos recuerdan de manera categórica que no podemos manejar, controlar ni manipular ciertas áreas de nuestras vidas. ¿Cuántas veces podemos mirar hacia nuestro pasado y encontrar evidencia de algún plan elaborándose, diferente al nuestro? Estos son los momentos cuando, por cualquier razón, permitimos a alguien superior que nosotros que implemente el plan. En ese momento, incluso ni nos dimos cuenta de que estábamos dejando ir algo, pero en retrospectiva, vemos las manos y la amorosa presencia de Dios. Es nuestra conciencia de esos momentos lo que nos da el valor y la iniciativa para dejar ir algo más tarde. Son el valor y la iniciativa resaltados en las lecturas de hoy. A esto lo llamamos “fe”.

Confía menos en ti y más en Dios.
